With a long and distinguished career in the arts, Dr. Sims is known for her expertise in African, Latino, Native and Asian American artists. She became the first African American curator at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and has been instrumental in building the museum’s collection. Currently, she is the Charles Bronfman curator at the Museum of Arts and Design in NYC.

Women’s Leadership Center
Mission Statement
Building on Alfred University’s heritage as the first truly co-educational institution in the nation, the WLC provides opportunities for AU’s women to explore, develop, and fulfill their potential as leaders personally, professionally, and in their communities as they meet the challenges in a complex society.
